JUDGE THOS. W. DICKEY

Death cut short the career of Judge Thomas Wilson Dickey on Friday night, January 3, when he died in the Jameson Memorial hospital at 10:40 o'clock. For the past six weeks he had been confined in the hospital. His home was at 110 East Wallace avenue.

Judge Dickey was a native New Castleite. Born here on November 6, 1877, the son of David and Mary Devlin Dickey, he attended the New Castle grade and high schools and later attended the law school of the University of Pennsylvania.

Admitted to Practice
On December 6, 1901, he was admitted to the practice of law in the courts of Lawrence county and immediately went into partnership with the late Attorney Harry K. (Continued On Page Two)

PA NEW OBSERVES

Mrs. Edna Erk of County Line street believes spring is just around the corner for she saw two robins Friday on a tree outside her window.

Apparently the mild weather of the past few weeks has come to a halt. Rather blizzard conditions prevailed during the morning, as snow fell in quantities, and the temperature dropped. Slippery streets and highway conditions developed, with return of stormy weather.

Looks as though the lads who got the new sleds and skates from Santa Claus will soon get a chance to use them, for the first time since they arrived on Christmas Day.

State highway work has virtually been suspended, although there are still a lot of roads under construction in the district, which will not be completed until well on into the summer, and for which detours will be maintained throughout the winter. There is one project, where traffic (Continued On Page Two)

Congress Awaiting Roosevelt's Message At Monday Session

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—Shattering of party lines in the 77th congress over such vital issues as methods of aiding England, taxation, finance and national defense appeared inevitable today as members awaited with extraordinary interest President Roosevelt's annual message on Monday.

New Deal social experiments were temporarily shoved in the background of congressional discussion, although they may force to the front during consideration of revision of the social security law, labor act and the securities and exchange law.

Even though the new congress is still in the process of organizing itself, informal bi-partisan blocs (Continued On Page Two)

Bombs And Mines Dropped On Eire Of German Make

Irish Troops Ordered To Be Ready To Go To Any Bombed Area

ORDERS TO FIRE ON ANY AIRPLANES

De Valera Strikes To Prevent Diplomatic Break With Germany

By PETER KILROY
(International News Service)
DUBLIN, Jan. 4.—Irish troops today were ordered to stand by in their barracks ready to proceed to any bombed area, while Prime Minister Eamon De Valera strove to avert a breach of diplomatic relations with Germany.

Orders were given to anti-aircraft batteries to fire on any unidentified airplanes appearing over Eire.

Identify Mines
Not only the bombs dropped on Eire, but also the magnetic mines which fell on land and in the sea off Ireland, were identified as German, an official statement said.

De Valera was represented as pursuing a middle course, carefully avoiding any precipitate measures which might plunge neutral Ireland into the war.

Nevertheless well-informed circles and the newspapers of Eire strongly hinted that the German minister in Dublin might be handed his passports if Berlin's reply to the Irish protest over the bombings is not satisfactory.

Cautious Shown
De Valera's caution was manifested in a flat denial of alarmist stories circulated abroad.

An official Eire government announcement said: "Statements in America that Dublin was subjected to a daylight bombing yesterday, and that the Irish government has threatened to expel the German minister are false."

The last bombing of Eire occurred at 4 a. m. on Friday.

Following the protest sent to Berlin by De Valera's government, demands that Eire's legislature be summoned and that the air attacks be explained at once were published by Dublin newspapers.

With anger, nervousness and apprehension spreading rapidly through the republic, it was evident that the aerial attacks have imposed a severe strain on relations between neutral Eire and the Nazi Reich.

Shoots Girl; Then Commits Suicide

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 4.—Paul Police, 74 year old eccentric, today shot and fatally wounded his 14-year old granddaughter, Theresa, while she was scrubbing the kitchen floor of the North Philadelphia home and then put a bullet into his head, police reported.

Detectives said the aged man, mentally deranged since his wife's death two years ago, had been muttering recently that "something big is going to happen."

Threatened

BETTY GRABLE

Betty Grable, blond screen dancer, was threatened in a letter demanding $20,000, according to her complaint to the United States attorney's office in Los Angeles. A federal complaint was issued against "Betty Westlake" of Washington, Pa.

Youth Is Held In Threat Case

Washington, Pa., Youth Is Facing Charges Of Sending Note To Betty Grable

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 4.—James Willard Porter, 18 year old Washington, Pa., youth, said by federal agents to be the author of an extortion letter sent to screen actress Betty Grable, was to be arraigned before a U. S. commissioner in Pittsburgh today.

On complaint of the federal bureau of investigation, the youth who allegedly signed the threatening letter as "The Yellow Hornet" was arrested and held for the G-Men in his nearby home town by Pennsylvania motor police.

The letter to Miss Grable warned that if she did not send $20,000 to "Miss Betty Westlake" at Washington, Pa., "The Yellow Hornet" would "personally come out and get you."

The address given turned out to be the home of E. F. Westlake, superintendent of East Washington schools, who said he did not know Porter. The mild mannered youth whose mother is widowed, believed Westlake's daughter, Mary, was named Betty but was not acquainted with her, G-Men said.

Young Porter wrote 16 similar threatening letters to five other Washington residents, authorities added. All were signed by "The Yellow Hornet" who is one case demanded $200 and in others ordered several Washington boys and girls to perform "assignments" under threat of harm.

The specific FBI charge against Porter was violation of federal laws by using the mails to extort.

Governor Will Name Judge For County Vacancy

With the death of Judge Thomas W. Dickey, a vacancy occurs on the bench of Lawrence county, the first vacancy ever created by death since the county became a separate judicial district in 1894.

Until an election is held, which will be in November of this year, the governor has the authority to appoint a successor to Judge Dickey, who will serve until a judge is elected. The judge elected in November, 1941, will serve for a full 10-year term.

Nazi Raiders Pound Bristol During Night

Western English City And Port Damaged In Prolonged Attack

LIGHT RAIDS ARE MADE ON LONDON

Nazi Bombs Are Also Dropped On Other Parts Of Great Britain

By JAMES E. BROWN
(International News Service)
LONDON, Jan. 4.—Nazi raiders heavily pounded the western English city and port of Bristol during the night, damaging homes and other buildings, including schools and churches.

An undisclosed number of persons were killed and injured by explosive and incendiary bombs dropped by the Germans during the prolonged air attack.

Late this morning rescue squads still were searching through the ruins for persons trapped under smashed debris.

Bristol has been heavily raided by German bombers on several previous occasions in an effort to make the port useless as a point of entry for supplies from overseas.

Light Attacks On London
Simultaneously, other Nazi raiders carried out light but harassing attacks on the London area and other sections of Britain. London had three night alarms, the last of which began shortly after midnight and ended at 4 a. m., accompanied by sporadic anti-aircraft fire but little other activity.

In Bristol a number of persons were killed and injured by falling bombs but the air ministry said it was not anticipated that casualties would prove heavy.

Nevertheless, rescue workers were kept busy rescuing persons trapped in the ruins of houses and other buildings.

Six homes were completely demolished and four churches and an equal number of schools were badly damaged. One school was completely gutted.

Long Attack On Bristol
Many fires broke out during the raid but all were quickly extinguished.

The air ministry communique said enemy planes carried out a prolonged attack on Bristol and wrought considerable damage with incendiary and high-explosive bombs.

"A number of people were killed and others were injured," the communique stated, "but it is not anticipated that the total will be high."

Bombs also were dropped on other parts of the country but damage was slight and no casualties were reported.

Travel Checks For Lawmakers In Washington

Many Never Out Of City But Get Checks For Travel Just The Same

By JACK VINCENT
(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—Travel checks for about a quarter of a million dollars were being distributed to the nation's lawmakers today although many of them didn't stir out of their seats in getting from the 76th to the new 77th congress.

A total of $45,000 in travel expenses were being sent to senators (without questions asked) and checks for about $200,000 were going to members of the house.

Since the old congress did not end until the new congress convened yesterday, many members did not leave Washington, and hence they didn't have to travel to and from their homes.

The law-makers are allowed 20 cents a mile for travel, and in the case of Western senators and representatives and delegates from Hawaii it amounts to a considerable sum.

The senate disbursing office said that the travel checks were sent out today as a routine matter. For new senators, it will be their first check from Uncle Sam.

Repeated Italian Counter-Attacks Are Reported Thrown Back

ITALIANS HURL FRESH TROOPS

Furious Battle Rages As Italians Attack With Waves Of Troops

By A. E. ANGELOPOULOS
(International News Service)
ATHENS, Jan. 4.—Inflicting heavy losses on their foe, Greek warriors today flung back repeated Italian counter-attacks along the Klisura sector of the central Albanian battle front.

Latest reports to Athens from the war zone told of fierce Fascist counter-charges, launched in a desperate effort to regain important positions previously lost to the Greeks.

But these assaults were repulsed one by one, military dispatches stated, and the Italians finally were forced to call a halt after suffering many losses in dead and wounded.

This afternoon last-minute advances gave more details of the defeat sustained by the Fascists in the Klisura area.

Fresh Troops Fall
These reports said the Italians in the Tepeleni-Klisura triangle area had been reinforced by considerable contingents of fresh troops from Italy and that the counter-attacks began yesterday to recapture strategic hills northeast of Klisura which the Italians lost last week-end.

A furious battle raged for many hours as wave after wave of Italians smashed against the granite-like Greek lines. Finally after each (Continued On Page Two)

Bridgeport, Conn., was awarded $102,249,880 for the Denver plant—$14,800,000 for equipment and man- (Continued On Page Two)

Mrs. Roosevelt Gets New Dresses For Inaugural

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt today has three new dresses to wear during the ceremonies of the president's third inaugural—but she'll keep the same fur coat she wore four years ago.

The nation's first lady, selecting the dresses according to a patriotic theme, purchased one, "Americana," red, one rose-white and one of "White House" blue. She donned the dresses and walked across a platform while reporters and photographers "covered" the event at a Fifth Avenue apartment store.

Of her black broadtail fur coat, she said: "I hope this coat will serve so long as we are in Washington."

Third Nightly Attack Is Made On Bremen

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)
LONDON, Jan. 4.—The entire industrial area of Bremen, great German seaport and manufacturing center, was left a "sea of flames" by last night's smashing R. A. F. bombing attack—the third in as many nights—the British air ministry announced today.

The latest raid on Bremen set up huge new sheets of flame in the city and created havoc among Nazi war industries, which will remain crippled for some time, the ministry said.

Bombs literally were showered on the German city in the third consecutive British attack, which was as heavy if not heavier than the previous two fire-finding assaults.

Many Large Fires
Many large fires lighted the sky over Bremen after the British bombers unloaded their deadly cargoes, the air ministry said.

The air ministry's news service, in a fairly detailed account of the attack stated:

"Last night's attack on Bremen was as heavy and possibly heavier than those of the two previous nights."

"It is understood the British pilots found the fires started Wednesday night still burning."

"It is considered that Bremen's war output will be restricted severely for some time."

"Bremen is the first German town to receive such concentrated and sustained attacks on three consecutive nights."

Motorist Is Held For Death Of Girl

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 4.—Wade E. Simpson, 26-year-old father of two children, was held by police today as the alleged hit-run motorist whose car killed Mary Margaret Dotten, 20, New Year's night. Detectives said Simpson signed a confession.

The Patton township man was arrested after detectives, searching the neighborhood for cars with damaged fenders, found Simpson's was bent. Simpson said he thought he struck something while driving along Pitcairn road and later returned over the route. It was clear he told police. By that time, Miss Dotten's body had been removed.

The girl was struck while walking to deliver a Christmas gift at the home of Mrs. John Schwartzmiller.

Cairo Report Tells Of Capture Of 5,000 More Italian Troops In Libya

BRITISH POUND BARDIA DEFENSE

Final Decisive Attack On Italian Stronghold Is Believed Near At Hand

(International News Service)
(BULLETIN)

WITH THE BRITISH IMPERIAL ARMY BEFORE BARDIA, Jan. 4.—Behind a record air, naval and artillery bombardment which pounded the port ceaselessly, British troops today broke through the defenses of Bardia to a depth of two miles.

At least one quarter—or some 5,000—of the defenders of this northeastern Libyan port have been killed or captured, according to British estimates.

By W. P. SAPHIRE
(International News Service)
CAIRO, Jan. 4.—Capture of 5,000 more Italian prisoners at the Fascist Libyan stronghold of Bardia, where defenses were cracked and split apart by charging Australian shock troops, was announced by the British high command today.

An official statement said: "Operations are developing successfully at Bardia. So far 5,000 prisoners have been captured."

Garrison Reduced
Since 20,000 Italian troops previously were reported trapped at Bardia, it now appears the Fascist garrison there has been reduced to 15,000 men or less. In addition, the recent terrific British artillery and aerial bombardments of Bardia are presumed to have taken a considerable toll among the Italian defenders.

The tank-supported charge of the Australians that punctured part of Bardia's defenses followed a tremendous 24-hour aerial barrage.

Dies Committee Makes Report

Recommendations Are Submitted

Ways And Means To Hit Sabotage And Subversive Movements Given

WOULD DEPORT MANY ALIENS

By JACK VINCENT
Internal News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—A nine point legislative program, designed to snuff out sabotage and espionage and combat subversive movements, was submitted to congress Friday in a final report by the Dies committee.

The report, which bitterly condemned Communist, Fascist and Nazi movements in America, was signed by six of the seven members. Rep. Clegg (D) Mass., the seventh member, was not in the capital.

The committee—its life finished at noon—also requested that it be recreated for two years—with an adequate appropriation.

Recommendations Made
Legislative recommendations follow:

1. Mandatory deportation of alien spies and saboteurs.
2. Mandatory deportation of aliens who advocate "any basic change in the form of our government."
3. Require all employees and officials of government to be American citizens.
4. Withhold federal financial aid from educational institutions which permit faculty members to advocate Communism, Fascism, or Nazism, as substitute for American form of government.
5. Outlawing of every political organization shown to be under control of a foreign government.
6. Halt immigration from countries refusing to accept return of their nationals from America.
7. Added restrictions on distribution of totalitarian propaganda when distribution involves cost to American people.
8. Extend period during which citizenship papers can be revoked to at least ten years.
9. Extend statute of limitation for misuse of passports from three to ten years, to halt fraudulent use of passports.

Regulate Employment
The committee also recommended that employment in national defense industries "be denied to any person who has been and is now active in any political organization which is found to be under the control and guidance of a foreign government."

Charging widespread propaganda by both Communist and Nazi forces, the committee report said:

"The evidence before the committee shows clearly that the agents of Moscow have, for the most part, tried to bore from within labor and progressive movements, just as the agents of the Axis have, for the most part, tried to bore from within patriotic, conservative and business groups."

"These respective groups will, therefore, most effectively serve the interests of their country and themselves by promptly and energetically purging themselves of whatever foreign control, totalitarian 'bore' that would use them as covers for their un-American activities."

CONGRESS NOW AWAITS MESSAGE

Blow Is Formed
A non-interventionist bloc already had been formed in the senate to battle against steps which may involve the nation in a foreign war, while some Democrats and Republicans were combining in the House for the same purpose.

A strange atmosphere enveloped congress. There were many members with unusually grave faces. On every hand, in the corridors, one heard senators and representatives shaking their heads and observing that "this will be one of the most momentous sessions of congress in all history."

To Deliver Message
President Roosevelt's message which he will deliver in person, is expected to chart the immediate course of congress. Senator Barkley, Ky., Democratic senate leader, predicted that Mr. Roosevelt will go into detail in recommending his arms lease plan to aid Britain.

A budget which may total $17,000,000 is to be delivered Tuesday. A huge national defense deficiency bill—in which legislation authorizing the arms leasing plan may be included—is expected early next week.

The issues of aid to England and appropriations—on which congress may determine its attitude on the economy issue—will be met early in the session. The tax issue is slated to be postponed until April, while leaders are undetermined on administration proposals for revision of social security and placing old-age pensions on a national basis.

One of the biggest battles of the session may be fought over proposals of the federal reserve board to curb presidential money powers in order to avoid inflation.

GREEK TROOPS INFLECT HEAVY LOSSES ON FOE
The council also doubled war pensions of widows and orphans and established fixed prices and government control over medicine.

In addition, the council approved a new and more efficient system for control of exports and imports. It also authorized appointment of women to participate in provincial committees to control prices.

Finally the ministers approved construction of a canal linking Milan with the Po river.

The council will meet again on Tuesday to take up the national budget.

Making Headway
Throughout central Albania, military quarters in Athens declared, the Greek forces are now making headway "in depth."

The Kilaia sector provided the chief activity of the past 24 hours. Elsewhere bad weather was said to have prevented major movements by either side.

On the northern front the Italians yesterday attempted an attack with the aid of tanks but this was broken up by Greek anti-tank guns.

By the time the Italians retired the battle area was reported strewn with the wreckage of tanks, wheels and caterpillar treads.

In another skirmish on the central sector yesterday, a squadron of Greek cavalry charged and dispersed two companies of Italian infantry.

Earlier, on the far northeastern front, beyond Pogradec, an aerial bombardment of the key Fascist base of Elbasan caused further destruction of Fascist supplies and communication lines.

Meanwhile, Premier General John Metaxas in an interview with news correspondents—the first he has given since outbreak of the Italo-Greek war—assured the population Greece would emerge victorious from the conflict.

Education Prevents Many Fatal Cases Of Tuberculosis Disease

One of the main objectives of the Lawrence County Tuberculosis Society is education—telling the general public the causes, symptoms, and ways of curing that dreaded disease.

Education is classed so highly by the society because it is the belief of the officers that after education there would be no difficulty in finding the early case. And if the early case is found, tuberculosis can usually be completely cured in the early stages.

Pennsylvania does a lot for tuberculosis sufferers. There are three sanatoriums in use in the state and it has been found that in eight of every ten patients that go to these institutions are advanced cases.

Miss Della Glenn, secretary of the county society, believes that this should not be, and if folks were educated about tuberculosis they would not put off taking the treatment and care of themselves that they should have.

There is only one way to find out if you are a tuberculosis victim, and that is the modern way, take a tuberculin test and if necessary be X-rayed.

How many people know what they should do if their family physician told them they had tuberculosis? How many individuals in Lawrence County know what to do if they wanted to go to one of the state hospitals? How many know where the local state clinic is located and on what days it is open for tuberculosis work? All of these questions and many more regarding tuberculosis are being answered daily by the tuberculosis society office, and a mere call to the office will bring answers to most questions regarding the disease.

Free literature may be obtained at all times from the society office located in room 219 Lawrence Savings & Trust Company Building. Just at this time, the tuberculosis society is making preparations to launch its 1941 battle against tuberculosis, the Christmas Seal sale, the only support of the society, having ended.

BRITISH TAKE 5,000 PRISONERS AT BARDIA BASE
announcement described this aerial assault by R. A. F. planes as one of the heaviest air attacks yet carried out in the middle east. It added that the British bombers suffered no casualties.

Final Attack
The penetration of Bardia's ring of defenses by the husky fighting men from Australia heralded what was believed to be a final, decisive frontal attack on the important Italian base and seaports, designed to occupy the town and annihilate or immobilize its remaining defenders.

How soon the final storming assault develops naturally will depend on the progress of the present operations, authorities declared.

Throughout Jan. 2 and the previous night waves of R. A. F. planes hammered Bardia incessantly with the evident intention of reducing Bardia's fortifications to dust in preparation for a climactic ground attack. British forces have been massing for this assault since the siege of Bardia began 19 days ago. At the same time other R. A. F. squadrons sped to the west over Libya, blasting shipping in Tripoli harbor.

Desperate fighting is anticipated when the mass attack begins, since all Italian avenues of escape have been cut off and Premier Mussolini has ordered his last-ditch defenders to fight to the last man and hold Bardia "at all costs."

WAR DEPARTMENT PUSHES PROGRAM
agement services, and $87,449,880 for operation of the plant when it swings into big scale manufacture of small arms ammunition.

To Manage Plant
The Goodyear Engineering Corp. of Akron, O., was awarded $2,373,446 to equip and manage the Charleston plant and $11,526,095 to load powder when this plant goes into operation.

The Charleston plant is to be located on land adjacent to that on which the Indiana ordnance plant is now being constructed for operation by the E. I. DuPont de Nemours Co.

Meanwhile, indications were that the army will ask the new congress for about another $500,000,000 to augment these long range defense plans.

No deliveries of material will be made for at least a year and in some cases two years. The money is being spent to build factories or to enlarge existing factories. Months of construction, tooling up, and equipping must precede actual production.

Meanwhile, the army has spent almost $5,000,000,000 in the actual purchase of material from existing facilities in the last six months, and is expected to ask Congress for $2,000,000,000 to $3,000,000,000 more for this short range procurement.

Mrs. A. Bonivogno entertained the N. B. B. club, Thursday evening in her home on Glass street.

Tables of 500 were in progress, the prizes going to Rose DiDiano and Mrs. A. Panella. Mrs. A. Mozzocco captured the club trophy.

A delicious lunch was served, with Mrs. Joseph Perry, assisting the hostess. Special guests present were Mrs. A. Panella, Rose DiDiano and Mrs. Joseph Perry.

January 16, is the date for the next meeting with Mrs. Frank Boran, of Moravia street.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

WHEN NEW BABY ARRIVES

Few mothers ever saw a brand new baby before they saw their own. At the first sight of your baby you probably were a little shocked. It was rather a ridiculous little creature, all out of proportion, according to adult standards of beauty—legs and arms very short, body big with bulging abdomen, head absurdly large and sometimes pointed or peaked, or flattened or bulged in odd places. Usually his complexion is very red and blotchy. His tiny face is crinkled and creased in a maze of wrinkles, and constantly changing from one ugly grimace to another. Yet day by day the baby grows to be attractive, really.

Baby Differs From Adult

The baby differs in many ways from the adult other than in size. The structure of his body, as well as the proportions, is unlike that of the adult. His bones are chiefly cartilage of gristle, therefore soft and flexible, and not stiff and hard like ours. The bones of the skull have not grown together as they have in ours. There are two small gaps between the head bones of the baby, one at the top and the other at the back—fontanelles. Through them the pulse beat may be felt or seen.

These fontanelles leave room for the brain to grow after the child has been born. The one at the back of the head closes during the first few weeks, but the one at the front remains partly open until the baby is well past his first birthday.

Other Differences

The composition of the baby's blood is different from the adult's. His breathing and pulse rate are higher; so is his temperature and it changes more readily.

The new-born baby cannot see in the sense that an adult sees. He merely recognizes in a vague way the difference between light and darkness. Once in a while we find a baby who can follow a moving light immediately after birth, but usually it takes some time before they will do this.

He can hear, but only loud sounds. Some babies give evidence that they hear ordinary sounds after a few days. The baby is able to taste from the beginning, though not very acutely, nor does he give much evidence of being influenced by smell. Clearly he shows that he enjoys touch, for he will cease crying when stroked or carried, and will turn his head or move his arms or legs when touched. The new baby is moving in some way most of the time while he is awake.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. Don't you think a teen-age boy who buys and puts into good shape a jalopy and, with another youth, takes a trip in it, acquires a vast deal of education?

A. Yes, so does the lad who pilfers, steals a car, or robs a bank. But it's hardly desirable education. As a rule, the youthful jalopy-owner doesn't gain wholesome education from the venture. He may be endangered physically and morally and often is a public peril. Besides, he may cause his parents endless cost and worry. Somewhat in his class is the chronic hitch-hiker.

Q. I am walking down the street with my three-year-old daughter when we meet an old friend of mine. As the friend greets us the child droops her head and chews her fist but says not a word. What should I do?

A. Talk of the European situation, business conditions, or the weather to divert the attention of the friend from the child. The speechless child is paralyzed with embarrassment. As she slowly regains courage she will talk.

Q. At what age should a child select (purchase) his own clothes?

A. This depends on the child and the opportunities he already has had to make choices. Gradually from the age of five or six the child should have opportunity to help choose the clothes bought for him, within certain style and price limits. The high school youth should have acquired ability to do practically all his own personal shopping. Fortunately the youth who on entering the teens has a budget and learns to purchase his own clothes wisely, within this budget.

HARDSHIP

Be glad it isn't easy, be glad the life is long.
Rejoice the days before you are not all filled with song;
Be thankful for the burden, the struggle and the test,
For were the problems simple you'd never reach your best.

'Tis born in all to grumble and wish an easier lot,
To think life should be kinder, but still be glad it's not.
For did man never blunder nor dream in ashes fall,
Did Time bring naught but pleasure we'd weary of it all.

The snow lies deep this winter and bleak are sea and land,
But where the sun is constant is hot and flowerless sand,
And where is pleasure only is a little left but sin.

'Tis hardship holds the prizes for plucky hearts to win.
So when the burden's heavy and hard beset the way,
Keep plodding ever onward; give battle to dismay;
And even in the moment when things against you go
Be glad that you can take it, and answer blow with blow.

No wonder races fight one another. People will side with a hometown rogue against an honest man in a town twenty miles away.

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 7:22. Sun rises tomorrow 4:48.

There are four billiard halls in New Castle. Do you know where they are located and the names of the owners?

What is home without a motor?

It's nice to get a letter from a big hotel in a big city telling you your credit is good there. This is especially true if you had liked to stay at that hotel, but could not afford it.

A lot of gals are getting used to the new kind of perfume they got for a Christmas gift.

"Do you have to use any force to get kisses?" asked the friend of the boss' son.

"Just the office force" airily replied the young man.

BETWEEN SERMONS

Religious notes in southern newspaper 100 years ago:

The Reverend Mr. Blaney will preach next Sunday in Dempsey's Grove at 10 o'clock a. m. and at 4 o'clock p. m. Between sermons the preacher will run his sermons, Julia, against any nag that can be trotted out in this region, for a purse of $100.

A fat woman always loves to eat, but being ashamed of it, and also being ashamed of being fat, she'll say: "I do not eat enough to keep a hummingbird alive."

IT DOES SEEM SO

A young woman hitting next to Bernard Shaw at a dinner remarked: "What a wonderful thing is youth."

"Yes," replied Shaw, "and what a crime to waste it on children."

The real question is what will happen to America if the dictators win? There is no use using words people cannot understand.

Always there is a lot of phony talk about "the good old days." Must be that we remember only the happy spots and forget the time we were three months behind in the rent.

It is claimed that stuttering is more frequent among men than among women. Men cannot think up the answers fast enough and naturally stutter.

FIERY STUFF

Little Dorothy was a passenger in a car that had just been overtaken by a speed cop.

"Where's the fire?" growled the copper.

"In your great big, beautifully eyes, you big strong man" said Dorothy.

And then fire flamed in the copper's cheeks.

Chiseling has become a great industry in the United States.

They tell of a sleepy man whose wife declares that when they were courting he came to see her as early as 5:30 p. m. so he could get back home to be in bed at 8:30.

Heard at the breakfast club: "Bill is a coward. He wears glasses when he eats grapefruit."

Have you noticed that if two men have about the same thing the matter with them physically they become good friends? Perhaps it proves the old saying: "Misery likes company."

Believe it or not, at the very time we are doing these lines, feeling rather philosophical for no reason whatsoever, a man driving through the alley (horse and buggy) is yelling "Rubbish! Rubbish!" Well, he's entitled to his opinion.

Perhaps the people of America have no idea of sending troops to Europe, but just the same if a ship or two of ours is blown up you will see them galloping to the seashore to get on a battleship.

Very often after a war of words a war with guns starts. So far we have had the war of words.

There are still some Indians in Pennsylvania. We mean the regular American Indians and not the kind seen most anywhere in cities.

And don't forget while complaining that things could be very much worse than they are.

And speaking of golf, we are reminded of a story about a local man who was on the course recently having a round with a preacher, who took a mighty swing and missed the little white object completely.

"Oh, Muscle Shoals" exclaimed the minister.

Mystified, the minister's companion asked the explanation.

"Oh," said the pastor, "I mean the biggest dam on earth."

We used to know an old-time printer and editor who had the habit of lifting stories from other papers without giving definite credit but would put this on the tail end: "Stolen from another thief."

A man who always has many insurance policies was in a hospital several months ago. While convalescing from a hernia operation he had his wife bring him the policies so he might look them over, and for the first time, collect something. That would be a lot of fun, he said.

"Well," he told a friend, "I read the policies and they paid on every thing but hernia."

He: Every time I try to kiss you, it makes me a better man.
She: Well, don't try to get to heaven in one night.

Florence Fernhill says that some people make money every time they lift a finger. She hastens to point out that this applies only to mamlucists.

Calendars are not plentiful any more. They cost money.

People as a rule don't live long enough to make up for the time they wasted.

In West Virginia farmers who report to tax assessors low values of their sheep will now be paid on the same low values for their sheep when killed by dogs. The farmers are always up against slumps!

By the way, what is an "Arsenal for Democracy?"

A local farmer bemoaned the fate that he sat up with a croupy child until midnight, according to a story sent in. "It hasn't been long," reads the letter, "that he sat up with the baby's mother much later at night and she didn't have the croup."

Some people learn important facts early in life. Take the case of Jackie and Mabel.

They are great friends in school, but lately Jackie hasn't been doing too well with his studies. The teacher discussed the matter with him the other day.

"If you don't study harder you won't be promoted and I'm quite sure Mabel wouldn't like to have you fall behind," the teacher said.

"I don't care," said Jackie. "I guess there'll be lots of other Mabels."

Petain Remodeling French State
Rebuilding Along Fascist Lines
Trades Corporations Are Formed

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—Marshal Petain is reported to be undertaking a remodeling of the French state on Italian Fascist lines.

That is to say, as the news reaches Washington, trades corporations are to be substituted for political parties, such as we have here, as the English have, and as Italy, Germany and France had before the day of totalitarianism.

Of course we have only two parties that signify much. England's also practically number but two, classifying roughly as liberals and conservatives. The French had approximately 20. No one of them amounted to a majority over all. To transact parliamentary business they had to combine, several of them in a bunch, known as a bloc. A bloc usually didn't stick together for very long. The process of merging, unmerging and remerging in changed forms went on everlastingly. Nevertheless, each of the little parties was an independent party.

The French system had points in its favor. Our American two-party alignment (not counting the small maverick aggregations) is somewhat inflexible. We see it now. Our Democrats, for instance, are internally split. On the old-fashioned French basis the anti-New Deal element would rate as a separate party, which wouldn't hesitate to ally itself temporarily with the Republicans. Such cases wouldn't arise, that of Senator Carter Glass, who being a Democrat and nothing but a Democrat, considered himself bound to vote in the last election for President Roosevelt, though opposed to most Rooseveltian policies and to the third term. He'd have had a bloc to vote with.

More Responsive

In short, 20 parties, mixing, unmixing and remixing themselves, have a fluidity that two hard-frozen parties haven't got. The 20's constant shifts and changes in alliances reflect shifts and changes in public sentiment faster than any way it's a more responsive system than ours.

Maybe it's so exceedingly responsive as to be unreliable. I don't say it's better than ours. I only say the issue's arguable.

However, Fascism, which Marshal Petain is said to be trying to imitate, isn't any kind of a party system whatever. In theory, as previously remarked, it is government by means of corporations. In reality it's government by Dictator Mussolini (while he lasts), as boss of the trades corporations. But theoretically the trades corporations run things, and possibly Marshal Petain honestly intends 'em to do so in practice, in France.

Now, generally speaking, we Americans hate the terms Fascism, Nazism and Communism so cordially that we're dead against seeing any one of those systems gain a foothold anywhere on earth.

I hate 'em as much as the next man. Yet I can't help recalling that, eight or ten years ago, we had quite a little agitation in Washington contemplative of what was described as "vocational representation" on Capitol Hill. Looking back, it seems to me that vocational representation must considerably resemble what's known at present as trades corporation control. Vocational representative talk never got anywhere and soon subsided, but it wasn't regarded as particularly subversive in its time; it was quite seriously discussed.

Ralph P. Lozier, then a congressman from Missouri, gave the idea its initial send-off.

Congressman Lozier had quite a mining constituency. There was certain legislation the miners wanted and couldn't get. Lozier's reasoning was that the miners weren't numerous in any one district to elect a congressional spokesman for themselves. Scattered about, here and there, however, he contended that there were enough of them to send a sizable pro-mining delegation to Washington if they could.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

ONE FOR NEWS VENDOR

The newsstand was on an important corner in Philadelphia under the stairs of an elevated railway station. The owner had paid $200 for it. An adjacent property owner brought suit to have the newsstand ousted as "a public nuisance."

The court decided on the contrary that a newsstand is a public necessity, and that such stands cannot be ousted if they do not, in fact, "obstruct free passage along the sidewalk and are not excessive in size or otherwise objectionable."

In his opinion Judge L. Stauffer Oliver, compiled the newsstand with the newspaper as something more than public conveniences. He held that the constitutional doctrine of the freedom of the press cannot survive without the means for the speedy and unhampered distribution of news. Liberty of circulating is essential as is liberty of publishing. Publication can be of slight value without such freedom of circulation. Along that line of approach it was easy for the court to reach the conclusion that "the circulation of newspapers in our great cities through newsstands on commercial corners has become a well-established custom meeting an urgent need." Therefore, both the newsboy and the newsstand have achieved an essential place.

Thus do the newsboys of news achieve a new dignity. They also are instrumentalities for the preservation of democracy. Their position is impregnable so long as they keep within the ordinary rules of reason in the conduct of their business.

Labor And The Crisis

Washington, Jan. 4. SOON or late something has got to be done about the labor racketeers who are not only delaying the defense program but are greatly adding to its cost. Testimony as to both these things is piling up, and a Congressional investigation grows likely.

IT would be unfortunate, and it ought not to be necessary. The decent labor leaders, both inside and outside the defense administration, owe it to themselves to cure this condition. They are ready enough to assail employers as "rapacious and greedy." It would be a fine thing to see them give some attention to the "rapacious and greedy" practitioners of their own profession.

MRS. ROOSEVELT, who herself is a union member and certainly not prejudiced against organized labor, first called public attention to the size of the initiation fees which those who run the unions are insisting on before a man can join the union, which he must join to get a job. The particular fee about which Mrs. Roosevelt protested was $300, which she said, "seems to indicate that this particular local is a rather high-priced club." Discussing the same subject, a member of Congress—Mr. Hoffman, of Michigan—is quoted in the Congressional Record as saying, "Never, no, never in all history, has there been a greater shame come to any nation than that which is with us today because of our cowardice, our failure to deal with these tribute collectors."

PERHAUS Mr. Hoffman exaggerates, but his does not seem a gross overstatement when the facts are examined. For example, the United States News asserts that these initiation fees range from nothing to $2,500—the latter in effect among motion-picture operators in New York. The dues range from 25 cents to $10—and more—a month. In the building and construction industry, which is the immediate defense program, initiation fees range from $5 to $600, but the most common charge is from $50 to $100. Local unions also charge for "work permits" issued to members of their union from other cities who come to work within their territory. You can't get a job on defense work without belonging to the union, and you can't join the union without paying an initiation fee, which often is almost prohibitive.

THE inevitable results of this system are: First, to limit the supply of skilled and unskilled labor; second, to raise the cost of both skilled and unskilled labor; it is a system which gives those who control the unions complete control over the labor market. It gives them power to increase the cost of construction to the Government far beyond reason. It is no secret that it has been increased unreasonably in the construction of various cantonments. Well-authenticated.

What Noted People Say

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON—Sen. Henry F. Ashurst philosophizes on his retirement from the U. S. Senate: "Those who seek fame do not know what it is. Those who know what it is do not seek it."

NEW YORK—Draft Director Dr. Clarence Dikstra urges inclusion of schooling in the military training program: "We cannot develop real national unity in a vacuum or two or three separate vacuums."

BALTIMORE—Daniel Willard, Baltimore and Ohio Railroad president, praises the American system of government: "While no one would claim that our system of government is perfect, I believe that, whatever its imperfections, it has brought more happiness to those who live under it than has any other kind of government on earth."

NEW YORK—Dr. James E. West, chief scout executive of the Boy Scouts, believes more than arms are needed for defense: "America would be vulnerable without its greatest asset—manpower."

Bible Thought For Today

Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men. Luke 2: 14.

Words Of Wisdom

The two most engaging powers of an author, are, to make new things familiar, and familiar things new.—Johnson.

SIMPLE AND BRIEF

THE nation is told that "utter simplicity and brevity" will mark the third term inauguration, January 20, of Franklin D. Roosevelt. One of the "simple" features will be a mass air demonstration during the last ten minutes of the inaugural parade from Capitol to White House.

And when Inaugural Chairman Joseph E. Davies says "mass" he means it. The probability is that at no time has the public seen so many military planes in the air as will be on view that day.

Since the event will be unique—the only third term yet, and possibly the only one ever—large crowds of the curious will be on hand to participate, if only as on-lookers, in the making of history. It is in the Roosevelt nature to put on a good show, anywhere, any time.

Brief it may be, but the spirit of the occasion will deprive it of simplicity, even though war rages on three continents. There is room for jubilation in the fact that in a day of dictators the nation has gone through the orderly process of election, even though the campaign was bitter, and that the minority without cavil has accepted the will of the majority.

And as for the army of New Deal jobholders with every prospect of four years more of undisturbed security—they can be trusted to whoop things up.

HOT SESSION LOOMS

The first session of the new Congress got under way with a roar as Marriner S. Eccles, chairman, and the other members of the Federal Reserve Board called upon the lawmakers to head off inflation by repealing much of the monetary legislation of the last eight years, including the power given the President to further devalue the dollar.

The fight over war help to Britain led by Senator Wheeler, regardless of the outcome, will consume much time and produce great fireworks in the Senate. Taxation and the new budget of unprecedented proportions will also add to the general din as debate gets under way.

If Congressmen are elected to legislate and to air their views in the process, this Congress will give evidence that this branch of the government may have abandoned some of its rights but has reserved all of its prerogatives.

GETTING THE NEWS

Increasingly the successful dispatch of news from the continent of Europe to America becomes difficult. An illustration of that was the recent unconfirmed rumor that Germany was mobilizing troops in Italy.

The presence of such troops in any part of Italy would be common knowledge to the Italians but it does not follow that the ordinary news channels still open under strict censorship would carry the fact to the outside world.

Foreign newspaper correspondents operating in Italy would not be allowed to send out matter of so much military importance.

Yet the chances are that the rumor was accurate and that Hitler has been moving men into Italy for the purpose of rescuing his partner Mussolini.

How then did the presence of German troops in Italy come to be reported? Italian soldiers crossing over into Yugoslavia in their escape from the pursuing Greeks, are reported to have divulged the word about the German troops in Italy. It was possible to get the news out of Yugoslavia while the rumor was being "indignantly" denied in Italy.

NOT HITLER'S YEAR

Hitler, in his exhortation to his armed forces to continue with undiminished ardor their struggle against their enemies, assures them "the year 1941 will bring consummation of the greatest victory in our history." He was obviously whistling to keep up his courage, and it is virtually certain that he derives greater comfort from a contemplation of the past than the future.

The year just ended was Hitler's year. He has conquered nine countries. The "shame" of the surrender in the Forest of Compeigne in 1918 has been eliminated. He has approached close to victory. But there has been an interruption in progress and the world is now disposed to echo Mr. Roosevelt's unqualified affirmation, "based on the latest and best information," that the "axis powers are not going to win this war."

Six months ago it was an entirely different story. Then, with Holland and Belgium and France in collapse, and the British struggling desperately to escape across the Channel, Germany seemed invincible. But the Battle of Britain still rages; shipping losses have been reduced; Italy has failed pathetically in Greece and has been crushed in Egypt. And what is most important is that America has become the arsenal of democracy.

It is doubtful, under all the circumstances, if 1941 "will bring consummation of the greatest victory in our history," as Hitler predicts. It is much more likely to bring increased rumblings of unrest as a prelude to disaster.

Statinius says there is no shortage of aluminum. If there were, it would be no light matter.

Congressional report on the Labor Board adds up to 70,000 words. And probably not the half has been told.

There are now 241,856 filling stations in the United States compared to 124,513 ten years ago. The national password is: "Fillerup."

In his most recent speech Hitler again belittled gold which can be classified as sour grapes, gold being the first thing he looks for after invading a country.

Billy Hamilton, baseball hero who played with the Phillies fifty years ago, died last week aged 74. Athletic fame is so fleeting that he had been forgotten for forty years.

Americanism: Defense work dangerously lagging for want of machine tools; scores of scattered little machine-tool factories vainly begging for orders.

How strange to quarrel about religion when each believes what he still believes in childhood. Do you hate a man because his parents gave him red hair?

Calvary Gospel Tabernacle Will Have Anniversary

Special Services Are Planned
In Observance For Second Anniversary

DR. C. CLAYTON MOSIER

It has been announced that Sunday, January 5, will mark the opening of the second anniversary of the building of the new Calvary Gospel Tabernacle, located on Vogan street on the East Side.

Pastor, Raymond J. Fredericks and members of the tabernacle have practically completed plans for a special two weeks' series of evangelistic services as the principal feature of the anniversary.

They have secured as their guest speaker evangelist, Dr. C. Clayton Mosier, an outstanding Indian evangelist and Bible teacher. Additional features of the anniversary services will be spirited congregational singing, and special vocal and instrumental music. Services will be conducted nightly at 7:30 and 11 o'clock, 2:30 and 7:30 p. m. on Sundays.

The new building is a sand stone block structure seventy-five feet long and sixty feet wide with a seating capacity, in the main auditorium, of above six hundred.

There is a large basement beneath the main auditorium having the same dimensions as the auditorium. It is divided up into individual class rooms located along the side walls, two private rooms, a furnace room and a central assembly hall. Overhead in the preaching auditorium in full view are five huge attractive wooden girders resting on the side walls, supporting the oval roof of the tabernacle. There are no posts to obstruct the view of anyone.

The Calvary Gospel Tabernacle is one of the largest gospel centers in Lawrence County carrying on a most aggressive evangelistic program during the year round. Several special evangelistic campaigns are conducted annually, also summer Bible conferences during the months of July and August. Special emphasis has been placed on evangelism for young people. As a result of this eighteen young people have entered Bible Institutes and full time Christian ministries.

S. MILES BOUTON WILL ADDRESS WOMAN'S CLUB

S. Miles Bouton, foreign news correspondent of wide experience to whom the internal scene of 21 countries of the old world is familiar, will be the speaker at the meeting of the Woman's club in Highland U. P. church, Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Taking the title of Herman Rauschning's book, "The Revolution of Nihilism," the speaker will deal with the forces that created a Hitler and with the present military and political situation.

Mr. Bouton who is at present editorial writer for the Jamestown, N. Y. Post started his colorful career as a lawyer and later drifted into journalism. He has been a representative of the Associated Press, special correspondent of the New York Times, then of the New York World and for the last thirteen years special writer for the Baltimore Sun.

An assignment to Berlin in 1911 began a succession of memorable experiences. To witness the liberal Socialists experiment under Keren-sky in Russia and see it overturned by the Bolsheviks, to know the Germany of advanced culture and scientific superiority and see it set back to a nation of pagan worshippers seeking military domination; to observe achievement in the arts and sciences including high living standards in the Scandinavian countries swept aside with one mighty stroke are the eventful experiences of the speaker. He holds the distinction of being the first enemy correspondent to return to Germany after the first world war and was invited to leave in 1934.

Suggested As Fairer

Ditto other vocations, he said. Thus, he suggested, vocational representation might be fairer than representation by districts and states.

Wasn't this a hint at trades corporations?—at a corporate state? It strikes me that it did, right here in the U. S. A. I'm well satisfied that Congressman Lozier hadn't the slightest thought of plutocracy in mind. Vocational representation simply was an idea he had. It clearly didn't occur to him that the vocations might fall under dictatorial control. Duce Mussolini, Fuehrer Hitler and Commissar Stalin hadn't gotten in their work at that time.

GIGANTIC! THE WONDER PICTURE OF ALL TIME!

EXTRA All New March of Time—"LABOR AND DEFENSE—1941"—The Story That Is So Much Discussed—See the Inside Truth—Also Novelty—News

The Great Game Of Politics

STORIES of laborers who average $15 and $18 a day, and of the multiplying of workmen so that they work about two hours out of the eight-hour day but are paid for eight hours, have come in by the scores. The five-day-a-week law operates to pile up the costs. Every form of labor is easier for overtime payment, and the inevitable tendency is to loaf on the job in order to insure overtime. The effect of all this is to steep the defense program in a waste greater than that of the last war, and entirely without excuse.

MR. HILLMAN, who represents labor on the Defense Commission, undoubtedly wants to make a good record. Mr. Murray, head of the CIO, is said by his friends to be honest, able and patriotic. Mr. Green, of the AFL, frequently speaks well of himself and constantly lauds the patriotism of organized labor, despite his tolerance, specifically and repeatedly pointed out by Mr. Westbrook Pegler, of the gangsters and crooks who are in key positions throughout his organization. No one wants unnecessarily to reflect upon any of these men. Nevertheless, it does seem that they could serve their country better by concentrating upon cleaning up unsavory labor conditions which retard the speed of the defense machinery, and enhance its cost, rather than by devoting themselves to proclaiming the purity of their hearts, denouncing the employers and presenting grandiose plans for industrial production about which they know little.

IN other words, it is up to these labor leaders to clean up their own household before charging anyone else with profiteering or racketeering. But they will not do that, because the fixed labor-leader policy is to admit no imperfection or wrongdoing in their own camp. Their basic creed is that all the unpatriotic and evil people are in the employer class. Nor is it likely that there will come from anyone in the Administration or on the defense board any criticism of labor racketeering, though everybody knows it exists. If the complaints grow, some action may be taken by Congress, but none is looked for from the Administration.

ON the contrary, the disposition there will be to support the heated denials of the labor leaders, which always follow the presentation of facts such as these, and to sustain the labor-leader view that the criticism comes only from subservient tools of the "rapacious and greedy" employers. The class feeling that has been created in this country between employer and employee in the last seven years is a hateful thing. It is particularly distressing in a crisis such as this. But telling the truth should not augment it. If there is any other way to deal with it, it has not been suggested.

(Copyright, 1941, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

The old theory that instinct and appetite guide people to eat the right things is now pretty well exploded. You just don't get the vitamins you need so badly by this hit or miss system. You must have some rules to follow in choosing your food. Otherwise you will wind up with some of the deficiency diseases such as night blindness, decreased resistance to respiratory infections, loss of appetite, constipation, intestinal disorders—just to mention a few of them.

When I advise people about diet, I always stress vegetables first and foremost. At least once every day, every person should eat a good serving of green stuffs raw or lightly cooked; green beans should eat at least one large salad daily. And that salad should be composed of as many vegetables as possible. Get color in your salads. Let your artistic nature have a field day—choose a salad that has yellow and red and green vegetables in it, because these highly colored vegetables are the richest in vitamins and minerals.

Next I lay emphasis on dairy products. These are particularly necessary if the person needing dietary advice is a child, or a pregnant or a nursing mother, for these individuals need at least one gram of calcium in their food each day. Milk, and milk products, cheese, butter, buttermilk are the best sources of this calcium which these people MUST have. They can get it from one quart of milk a day.

Adults don't need as much calcium as children or nursing mother. Half a gram is enough for them and so if they drink a pint of milk a day, their calcium needs are taken care of. Some people can't drink milk that freely; for some reason their appetites have turned against milk. These people can get their calcium by taking their milk in cocoa, or by eating cheese or butter. Cheese is an excellent source of calcium.

Of course, everyone should eat some meat, fish, poultry and eggs in

DAILY DOZEN

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

Rhinoplasty means "to form the nose."

Plastic surgery of this type is not a new procedure.

It was practiced in ancient India and Egypt.

A deformed, injured, tiny or massive nose may not function well.

Aside from function, there is the esthetic disadvantage.

A child with a deformed nose may develop an inferiority complex.

A person may be born with a long nose or a snub, short one.

Some noses are wide, others hooked, some damaged by injury.

Occupational hazards and automobile accidents may noses.

Such noses should be repaired before bone union occurs.

A nose deformity brings mental suffering to the victim.

Rhinoplasty is the only possible correction solution.

A rose by any other name would smell as sweet, but "American First Committee" would smell better if frankly named "Don't Help England Committee."

News And Views From
Pennsylvania Capital

HARRISBURG, Jan. 4—When the general assembly convenes January 7, senate Republicans are expected to ease their long-time opposition to liberalized laws, principally the ones dealing with labor. A number of G. O. P. members of the upper house have indicated they will depart from the old order because of sentiment back home. In many instances these Republicans were returned to the senate by constituents who voted Democratic in national matters. Democrats have been encouraged by this trend toward liberalization of such acts as welfare and unemployment compensation and predict a fairer show in the 1941 legislature.

The change in Republican sentiment, it is believed, is the need for Democratic support in confirming any of Gov. Arthur H. James' appointments. Two of the present utility commission members will have their names presented before the senate for confirmation. Republicans are expected to emphasize before their confirmation date, the advantages gained by the people in utility company rate reductions under the G. O. P. . . . Another indication of the trend toward Republican liberalization is the result of a survey conducted by Joseph N. Pew, Jr., which reveals that the time has come to make a change in the party's ideals if not in leadership.

Lackawanna county's Judge L. M. Hoban seems assured of returning to his bench after his national guard duties have been completed. Republican leaders, headed by Gov. Arthur H. James, were quick to denounce any attempt at interference with Hoban's tenure of office. The judge, who holds an important post in the officers' reserves, is expected to leave for camp early next month.

State government commission officials, interested in taxation problems and what may be expected from the coming legislature on the subject, are expected to attend meetings of the tax section of the state bar association convention at Hershey January 3. . . . Chairman Ellwood J. Turner and director A. A. Wasserman along with G. Mason Owlett and other members of the commission are planning to attend.

Hazel D. Phillips, of Neshamock township, asks a divorce from Philip F. Phillips whose residence is unknown. They were married in Erie, Pa. on November 11, 1919. Cruel and barbarous treatment and indignities to person are charged.

Rebecca H. Johnston of New Castle asks a divorce from Joseph P. Johnston, Jr., of Washington, D. C. They were married in Grove City May 11, 1923. Indignities to person are charged.

Anna Belle Vogt of Slippery Rock township asks a divorce from Kenneth Vogt of Ashland, Ky. They were married July 5, 1929, in New Castle. Indignities to person are charged.

A settlement has been effected in the case of Edward David Krupa, a minor, by Edward Francis Krupa, his guardian, and Edward Francis Krupa in his own right and Catherine Krupa, his wife, against James Ferrese. The case arose out of injuries received by the minor plaintiff when the car of the defendant hit the car in which Krupa was riding. The settlement gives $486 to the parents, which amount is the hospital and doctor bills and $190 to the minor plaintiff. This is to be paid to the father as guardian of his son.

The girls' bowling team of the county commissioners office got a flying start in the new year in the bowling field. In the weekly series with the girls of the treasurer's office they took all three games.

Judge W. Walter Braham was in Hershey on Friday attending meeting of the Pennsylvania State Bar Association.

Two weeks of civil court are listed for this term. The first week starts Monday, January 13, and the second week January 20.

AT SANTA ANITA—Horses charge past finish line at Santa Anita, Cal., track where big purses are offered in winter race meeting.

New Castle High Loses To Butler By Score 37-22

New Castle Makes 14 Out Of 18 Fouls On Butler High Court

ALIQUIPPA HIGH HERE NEXT FRIDAY

New Castle High school basketball team ended its pre-league schedule last night by dropping a 37 to 22 count to the fast Butler High team at the Butler High floor. New Castle's first Section Three game is Friday, January 10, here, with Aliquippa.

Butler High employed an intricate defense last night that bothered the locals, so much in fact that they registered but four field goals. At the foul line the New Castle boys were superb, making 14 out of 18 for a very enviable record, while Butler made but 5 out of 16.

Butler Leads

The Butler team took the lead in the first few minutes and was never headed. The first period ended 11 to 3. New Castle did not have a field goal the first period. Paffrath and Iannotti led the Butlers in tallying. At halftime the tally was 19 to 7 in favor of Butler. McLafferty a sub forward made three field goals to be the standout star. New Castle was again held field-goalless in the second period.

It was not until the third period that New Castle could switch the nets for a two-point and Cooper and Christopher put in field goals to give the locals a tie for the period, both teams making seven points to make the count 26 to 14 in favor of Butler.

McLafferty Stars
Butler again turned on the heat in the fourth period, scoring 11 more points and allowing New Castle eight points. Ross and Christopher led the scoring for the Butlers in the fourth, having 14 of the points between them.

McLafferty with five field goals and Paffrath with three led the Butler team in tallying. The game was rough in spots as attested to by the 34 fouls that were called.

Although the American Association in 1940 boasted a powerful array of sluggers and long distance clouters, not one in the league was able to collect a home run in every one of the eight parks. No one, in fact, even missed in only one enclosure.

Operating Cost Of Race Track $30,000 Daily

Did you ever stop to think about the cost involved to operate and maintain a modern race track? Edward "Slip" Madigan, the ex-St. Mary's football coach and currently serving as general manager of the newly built Golden Gate Turf club, steps to the front with the info.

Madigan estimates the daily payroll and general overhead for the 36-day racing season will total between $25,000 and $30,000. A minimum of 7000 employees are busy at the track every day and as many as 1,000 persons are employed on big days.

Although publicized as a million-dollar track, the Golden Gate plant, according to Secretary-Treasurer Erik Krag, has an appraised value in excess of $2,000,000.

Krag estimates that upkeep, maintenance and overhead from one meeting to another will cost more than $150,000.

Razzano's Goal Trips Bessemer

Mt. Jackson High Cops Section 20 Opener By 25-24 Margin, Friday Night

Pete Razzano's field goal, potted in the last half minute of play, netted Mt. Jackson High a 25-24 Section 20 victory over Bessemer High Friday night on the Bessemer floor.

The sizzling battle saw each team take the lead on numerous occasions. Mt. Jackson sported a 7-5 margin at the close of the first. Bessemer rallied and took a 13-12 edge at the half.

The Mounties, paced by Clark and P. Razzano, forged ahead 20-18 at the end of the third. In the final stanza, the gallery sat nervously as the schoolboys fought for the lead. It looked like a Bessemer victory until Razzano pumped in the winning goal.

In the prelim, the Bessemer seconds drubbed the Mt. Jackson reserves, 30-7.

Dependable Titan Star

JOE SPAK

NEW WILMINGTON, Jan. 4. — Every year the Westminster Titans produce a "strong silent man" in their cage team; and this year it's Joe Spak, junior guard from Pittsburgh.

Joe plays the entire game with a "dead-pan," never changing his expression any more than does Brown Bomber Joe Louis, no matter what happens. No one has ever seen a smile or a frown flicker across Joe's face on the basketball floor.

Yet Spak is one of Coach Washabaugh's most dependable floormen. He shoots very little, but his excellent feeding and passing in the basket-zone have brought many Titan counters.

Spak will be in the starting lineup for Westminster tonight against the Youngstown Penguins on the New Wilmington floor at 8:15. The Titans will be trying for their fifth straight win of the season.

Part of Spak's assignment tonight will be to stop the 25-points-per-game scoring of Mogus, Penguin sophomore guard.

Pitt To Open Home Season With Titans

(Special To The News)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 4.—With a record of four wins against two losses to date, the Pitt Panthers are all ready to open their home season next week against Westminster on Tuesday night, and then continue their local wars by meeting Penn State on the Pitt floor on Saturday.

Thus far the Panthers have been putting their style of play against westerners, having met Wisconsin, Illinois, Northwestern, Michigan, Butler and Ohio State. Now they bump up against teams coached by a pair of the cleverest coaches in the Tri-State district.

Grover Washabaugh, whose South High teams were state title-holders or contenders for years, has been adding to his record with Westminster's Titans, and Johnny Lawler, who left Westminster to go to Penn State after meeting with sensational success, has put the State cage teams in the limelight.

Westminster with its fast break offense which averaged 49 points per game last year, will have six lettermen on hand, plus the usual complement of crack freshmen performers. The letter winners are

Sportsmen Board Meets On Friday

Dues For 1941 Set At $1.00; Regular Meeting on January 14

Directors of the Lawrence County Sportsmen Association gathered in the Y. M. C. A. for the initial meeting of 1941 on Friday night.

One of the main discussions centered around the various resolutions to be presented to the Federation of Sportsmen club during its annual meeting in Harrisburg in February.

President Andrew Dodds, during the discussion, pointed out that the resolution matter is important regardless of whether or not sportsmen are members of the organization. In view of this, Dodds declared the next meeting, Tuesday, January 14, as an "open meeting". The board set dues for 1941 at $1 in order that the program demanded by members can be presented.

The next meeting will be held in the Veterans of Foreign Wars hall, East Washington street, starting at 8 o'clock.

Charles Ridd, Lee Fox, Stan Wasik, Joe Spak, Freddy Miller, and Dale Dummlre. The Titans starting lineup likely will have Fox and Ridd at the forwards, Wasik at center, and Dummlre and Spak at the guards.

The Panthers themselves will be well rested after their first six rugged games, and Coach Carlson has indicated that there will be no lineup changes when they move out on their own court for the first time this year. This means the seniors, Eddie Straloski, George Kocher, Red Port, Sam Milanovich and Jim Klein.

Port, clever center, still is leading the Pitt scorers with 44 points gathered on 16 goals and a dozen fouls. He leads Straloski by one, the latter having hit 19 times from the floor.

Moving up fast into third place is big Larry Paffrath, substitute forward, with a 37 total. The Blue and Gold reserves have played a prominent part in the Pitt wins thus far, for with Paffrath, Eddie Ziolkowski and Tay Malarkey to inject into the starting combination when necessary, the Pitts have been able to keep the pressure up without weakening.

The latest to leave the city, although he's holding his vote here, is Tom McMahon. He was unemployed and had to seek a new field. Battling Terry is yet here but hasn't been employed in some time. Terry came from New Brighton 30 years ago.

Tommy Jones, local product, is the traffic commissioner and also employed. Joe Chip, who like his brother, ex-Champion George, came back from Madison, is in Pottsville, while George has a watchman's job here. Charlie Chip is in Detroit. His younger brother "Eggie" is also there and is a proprietor of a restaurant.

Paris Cangey, a localite, is working in a railroad shop here. Frankie Lands is holding a political berth and Frankie Ross was a candidate for a city office. Johnny Jennings, another New Castleite, is working in a pottery, ex-Champion Jimmy King is in Philadelphia. Now and then Romeo Pacelli is seen uptown. Emmett Rocco, who also may be regarded as a localite, is working for the street department in Ellwood City.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Rocco today are the proud parents of a baby girl, born Friday in the New Castle hospital. The mother is doing nicely. This is girl No. 2 for the Rocco family. The father stated yesterday he is working in Ellwood City. He was one of the best heavyweight fighters this section has produced in a score of years.

There comes to the writer a New York greeting from Frank Kust of Delta, Ont., to the New Castle folk who each summer or fall meander to that section to catch fish. George Sheakley, 44, Petrolia, was sentenced in McKean county yesterday to pay costs of the case and also $700 to representatives of Bartholomew Lombardo, 32, Clarion county, who was reportedly killed by Sheakley in mistake for a deer during the past hunting season. Sheakley also must serve two years in McKean county jail and serve one day for every dollar of the $700 he fails to pay to Lombardo's survivors.

Anell Hoffman, manager of the Baers, Max and Buddy, will accept a bout for Buddy with Arturo Godoy in New York but not for Max, he has wired Promoter Mike Jacobs. Cal Hubbard, major league umpire, of Zelenople, is being sought as Geneva football coach. Dr. George Hauser, Minnesota line coach, will confer with Ohio State athletic officials next week about his prospects for obtaining the job as O. S. U. coach.

Gersons To Play Girl Champions

Game At Arena On Sunday Will Be Best Attraction Of Season, Crowd Is Expected

OLD FURNACE FIVE PLAYS WARREN, O.

The Gerson Jewelers basketball team will play the world famous All-American "Red-Heads" girls basketball team at the Arena on Sunday and the local sports arena will no doubt be packed for the event, which will be the outstanding attraction of the season for the Gersons. The main game will start about 3 o'clock.

In the preliminary game the Old Furnace Five recently organized will battle the Spider Club of Warren, Ohio, at 1:30 o'clock. The Warren team is made up of well known stars of high school and college fame, and they expect to give the locals plenty of competition. Dick Chere, former Ohio Northern star, Kossow, former Kent State giant center and Keith O'Rourke, former Amherst College star forward will be in the Warren lineup.

Coach John Rubels of the locals will have a strong lineup ready to battle the invaders from Ohio. The "Coal Miners" feature such well known stars as Merritt "Butch" Downing, Chuck Scott, Marvin Kuth, and Eugene Kendall.

Girls Are Giants

The All-American Red-Heads will bring a team here made up of girls that average 6 feet in height. The tallest girl on the team is Genevieve Love the center who towers 6 feet 3 inches. The girls play under boys rules and ask for no favors.

The Red-Heads have been featured in Pic and Life magazines by special stories. They have toured the Orient, Mexico, Canada, and South America. They have played 710 games in four years before many thousands of fans.

Coach Mike Kulick will have to have his strongest possible lineup ready for the battle that is looked for when the girls take the floor. The Red-Heads are the only girls team that has ever played in the Orient. They defeated the Chinese men's team 39 to 24 during their last trip to the Far East.

Ozark Hill Billies

The Red-Heads were originally called the Ozark Hill Billies and played 300 games under that name, before changing to All-American Red-Heads. The team is coming here from Moundsville, West Virginia, where they play tonight. Following the game here Sunday afternoon the Red-Heads will board their special bus and will play at Painesville, Ohio at 9 o'clock Sunday night.

Following are the probable lineups:

Gersons	Red-Heads
Zingaro, f.	Blue
Bullano, f.	Smith
Olsen, c.	Love
N. Gennock, g.	Daniels
Hordig, g.	Lively

SANTA ANITA PARK, Cal.—Turf fans interested in the doings of Gallahadion, winner of the Kentucky Derby last spring, and one of the biggest named for the $100,000 Santa Anita handicap, will welcome the news from Trainer Roy Waldron that the 3-year-old will be ready for his first race at Santa Anita the latter part of January.

"Gallahadion is talking little walks these days, as we have let up on him," Waldron said.

New Wilmington Spills Wampum

"Greyhounds" Extended To Whip Sturdy Wampum Five, 32-27 Last Night

New Wilmington High's last period drive gave the defending Section 20 champions a well earned 32-27 league victory over a sturdy Wampum high five Friday night at New Wilmington.

Greyhounds, facing one of Wampum's best combinations in several seasons, managed to hold a 10-8 edge at the half. The hard fighting continued until 15-14 at the close of the third quarter.

Throughout the fourth, the school boys put on a real show for the gallery. With less than four minutes of play left, the scoreboard showed a 24-24 deadlock. Paul Minner fired two double plays to ease the tension. Craine came back for Wampum to cut the deficit. N. Borowicz and Pearson ended Wampum's hopes by hitting the mesh in succession.

In the preliminary game, Wampum's seconds dropped a 27-13 decision to New Wilmington's reserves.

Wilbur Thomas Stars In Match

Local Shooter, High Average Man Will Leave For Army Duty Shortly

Wilbur Thomas shot a brilliant 196 string last night at the Columbiana range to give New Castle Rifle club a Penn-Ohio League victory 951 to 921. Thomas will depart for the army soon as a member of Battery F and the New Castle Rifle club is going to miss him considerably.

Thomas is without a doubt one of the finest shooters in the entire country and the Penn-Ohio League has never seen a more steady and consistent shot. Thomas last year was high average man in the league and was well on his way this year to repeat, but Uncle Sam has called and he will serve his hitch.

The results—New Castle, Thomas 196, Finley 192, J. Moore 191, Milnes 187, Mowry 185, total 951. Other New Castle scores—J. Williams 185, G. Williams 162, Glitch 184, Kilbreath 178, W. ## Here Is One Tough To Top

Here's one that belongs in the same category as "Red" Friedman's wrong doing since both incidents have something to do with football.

On New Year's Day in New Orleans, two men handed tickets to a police clerk on duty at the Sugar Bowl game and demanded seats.

The police clerk looked at the duets in amazement. No wonder! They were for the Rice Bowl game in Pasadena, California.

When he pointed out the error, the men breezed along tipsily. One muttered: "I told you we caught the wrong train."

SOOSE CAPTURES SPLIT DECISION FROM MAURIELLO

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—Promoter Mike Jacobs looked forward to another big year today after opening his 1941 campaign with a double feature—bouts between two formidable middleweights and two promising lightweights—in the hopes of building up some opposition for the respective champions of these divisions.

Mike enticed 13,087 fans through the turnstiles, offering everything but bingo and free dishes, but the whole show turned out to be a flop—so far as Jacobs' ambitions were concerned—and today he was still looking for some challenges to be able to keep Overlin, king of the middleweights, and Lew Jenkins, lightweight titleholder.

In the first ten-round bout last night, Billy Soose, a frail-looking ex-collegian from Farrell, Pa., who holds victories over both Overlin and Tony Zale, NBA 160-pound boss, won a split decision over Tami Mauriello, a promising New York youngster.

Near Knockout Soose looked unimpressive in winning, even though he almost put the rugged Italian boy to sleep in the third round with a series of right hands to the jaw.

He won at least seven of the ten rounds and left Mauriello with a badly battered brow, but, with it all, he didn't shake enough in the opinion of the experts, to award him a bout with Overlin, from whom he won a controversial decision in a non-title bout in a drenching rain in Scranton, Pa., last summer.

In the other battle—and a gory one it was—Dave Castelluccio, a French-Canadian, was awarded a victory over Aldo Spoldi, from Milan, Italy. Both battlers had issued challenges at Jenkins, but after last night will have to eat more crow before they are ready for the "thin man" with the lethal punch.

Church League Games Friday

St. Marys, Croton And Central Christians Win In League Battles

St. Marys basketball team, led by Gilboy and Maher, gave the New Castle church league fans a genuine thrill last night at the "Y" by posing out the fast Greek St. George church team 36 to 35 in the opening game on the night's sizzling menu.

Nick Lucas and Cogey Othites were the standout performers for the Greeks. The Greeks led at the halfway mark 18 to 16.

In the second game the Croton team defeated the Epworths by a scant 20 to 18 margin, while in the third game the Central Christians trimmed the First Methodist team 54 to 9.

Stock Market Adds To Gains

Advance Is Not Uniform However, And Some Leaders Sag

BY LESLIE GOULD

Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—The stock market today added to yesterday's gains, but the advance was far from uniform and some leaders sagged.

Demand for some blue chips featured the short session, with Eastman Kodak up 3 points. Chemical and oil shares also attracted attention.

Trading was moderately active. U. S. Steel, Youngstown and Bethlehem eased. National, sluggish yesterday, rose almost a point.

Chrysler Motors was quiet and General Motors off slightly as they consolidated yesterday's gains.

Dow, was strongest of chemicals with a rise of almost 2 points at its high. Air Reduction gained almost a point.

Dealings in oil shares were marked by unusual activity in Standard of California. Gains predominated in the group.

Johns Manville and American Car & Foundry advanced a point each. Coppers were mixed. Aviation was slightly higher, and most rails improved.

COMMITTS SUICIDE

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 4.—Paul V. Doerfer, 34, jobless and unable to find the army, hired a taxi cab yesterday and told the driver to take him to a Point Breeze address. Not far from the destination, Clement Marotto, the driver, heard a shot and turned to find his passenger dead—a bullet wound over his heart, a 33 calibre revolver in his hand.

The address given the driver was that of Doerfer's birthplace, police reported later.

Boys With Air Rifles Make Targets Of Lights

Christmas presents bring a lot of joy on Christmas morning but now and then Little Willie gets a present that makes for bigger and better headaches.

Air rifles for example.

Fine things to give Little Willie some fundamentals in the handling of small arms, to start him along the path of a hunter but now and then Little Willie gets out of bounds with the air rifle and starts popping off the neighbor's cats, or drawing a bead on street lights.

Little Willie and the legion of his friends who got air rifles for Christmas have been doing a lot of offside target practice since Christmas.

A lot of street lights are casualties to their unerring eyes and it all adds up to a headache not only for light company but for the citizens at large.

Marshall Is Director For County Contests

Clarence Marshall, principal of Enoch Valley high school, has been elected director of music and speech contests in Lawrence county for 1941, according to an announcement from C. Stanton Belfour of the University of Pittsburgh. Mr. Marshall succeeds J. G. Rudolph, supervising principal at Union township, who was 1940 chairman. The Lawrence county program is one of more than 60 in Pennsylvania affiliated with the Pennsylvania Forensic and Music League and directed by the University of Pittsburgh.

District Contest
First place winners in the 1941 Lawrence county speech contests qualify for the northwestern district or inter-county meet, which is to be held at Slippery Rock early in April and directed by Superintendent A. Bruce Dennison of Greenville, 1941 northwestern district director. Those who receive first honors in the 30 music and seven speech events at Slippery Rock qualify for the 14th annual state contests at New Castle April 18 and 19.

Each year more than 350 Pennsylvania high schools enter their bands, orchestras, choruses, ensembles, soloists, debate teams, speakers, readers and orators in the county district and state meet. Previous state contests have been held at Pittsburgh, Harrisburg, Philadelphia, Altoona, Sunbury, Johnstown, Pottsville, Grove City, Oil City and Norristown.

From Lawrence County
Member high schools of the league in Lawrence county have been Bessemer, Ellwood City, Enoch Valley, East Brook, New Castle, New Wilmington, Mt. Jackson, Volant, Irwin, Scott township, Shenango township, Union township, Plaingrove township and Wampum.

One of the outstanding records in the league's program has been made by music students from New Castle high school. At the 1939 state contest at Norristown, instrumental groups from New Castle received first honors in the ensemble competitions and in brass sextet. The girls' chorus from New Wilmington high school received second honors in class C.

State Contest Here
At the last state meet at Harrisburg in 1940, the New Castle quartet received an excellent rating.

Classification Of Married Men In Draft Affected

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Jan. 4—Men who married after they registered for possible military training may be deferred from serving if their wives need their support, local draft boards today were informed.

Men who marry after they have been classified by their draft boards may also be deferred, the state selective service headquarters pointed out, provided the local board is notified within five days of the change in status.

"Thus, it appears plainly," the state board explained, "that if a man is married—whether he became married before or after registration—the question to be applied should be 'is his wife dependent, in fact, upon him?'"

No man is entitled to be placed in the class 11-A (dependency) group merely because he is married. The board cautioned, adding:

"The deciding factor is whether his wife is, in fact, reasonably dependent upon him for support."

This, if the registrant is married and his wife is employed with an income sufficient for her support or if she has other adequate means or facilities for support other than her husband's earnings, the local board need not defer his term of military service.

The state board emphasized that the decision in each rested solely with the local board.

Needed repairs have been made at the Pennsylvania Railroad crossing, Mahoning avenue. The many ruts have been filled in with black top patching material.

Many people have commented recently on the "eyesore" at the corner of Wabash avenue and North Liberty street. The cellar was left unfilled after the old building was torn down.

Mahoningtown's Christmas lights have been stored away for the year and will not be used again until next Christmas. The lights are the property of the Seventh Ward Civic club, having been purchased several years ago.

Several old transformers at the Cedar street electrical sub-station that are now out of use are being removed from the property.
